- pencil box: each student will have a plastic bin supplied by the school, but a pencil box to go inside can be helpful
- ear buds: the classroom has headphones, but if you prefer your own personal ear buds, you can bring those
- 1" binder: I will have these for the students to use, but if you prefer to have your own, that is fine

Feel free to keep using notebooks, folders, etc. from last year. They don't need to be new as long as they have plenty of blank pages. We have lots and lots of colored pencils and crayons in the classroom for students to use.

- 2 composition books (the stitch bound type) with graph paper inside for math work. Ordering online is sometimes faster than searching locally, but Office Max usually has them in stock.
- A ream of copy paper- that means 500 sheets- high recycled content is encouraged.
- An extra set of clothes for emergencies contained in a bag with their name on it (in case children get extremely dirty or wet from playing outside in the rain). This isn't important until it is important, and then it is a necessity.
- Either a pack of magic markers and/or colored pencils for personal use (whichever the student prefers) in a container marked with the student's name. If they are from last year, make sure they still work.

- A roll of masking tape- the wider, the better.
- One trifold 36" X 48" cardboard poster. The student's name should be written on the back.
